The name Charlie Brown conjures up conflict – Lucy, Linus and the gang. Its creator Charles Schultz bore a decidedly German name. There was a real life Charlie Brown and his German adversary was Franz Ziegler. Our recent trip to the Aircraft Museum in Albion Park left us with an insight into WWII.

Standing before an incomplete Messerschmitt Bf 108, our guide Bill recounted the memorable encounter of such a displayed aircraft piloted by Ziegler with a B17 Super Fortress piloted by American Charlie Brown. Badly damaged, its safe return to base was doubtful. Ziegler in a heroic act of physical and moral courage did not deliver the knockout blow. It was 2 days before Christmas. He spared the crew even giving them protection for a safe return. To him it was the equivalent of refusing to shoot a defenceless pilot parachuting from his disabled plane. The men met in 1987 and became life-long friends. Bill our guide recommended we read the inspiring book, A Higher Call. I did my homework and obtained a copy from the library. It is on show here today.

We are grateful for members Bob and Tony for arranging our club outings. They are part of the team behind the scenes, the Committee, that makes sure we active retirees have stimulating informative events. It was commented by some of the 29 members who attended the above event how liberating it is to sit back and let the bus driver take us. For me personally as one who uses the governments stretch limos, aka public transport, it was great to see people actually talking to each other rather than rabbiting on their phone or scrolling through their phones even skyping.

The cold mid-winter is not hindering our club activities with planned attendance at the Channel 7 taping of the programme, Interview with Andrew Denton, the Mid-Winter Feast, (make sure you get your booking and payment in asap) and next month a captivating trip to the Darlinghurst Gaol which should appeal historically as well as artistically.

We welcome any visitors with us today to hear what should be a topical, illuminating talk. We also welcome back some of our travelling members. I thank all committee members and those who volunteer at the welcoming or outing desk and of course those who assist with the tea and coffee and Peter Dee who puts together our newsletter. Kevin Fitzpatrick, Vice President

Joe HATTLEY The Search for Flight MH370

Malaysia Airlines Flight 370 disappeared on 8 March 2014 while flying from Kuala Lumpur to Beijing. The crew last made contact with air traffic control around 38 minutes after take-off when the flight was over the South China Sea. Military radar then tracked it deviating westward from its planned flight path where it vanished, 370kms NW of Penang. The plane is yet to be found and all 227 passengers and 12 crew are presumed dead. The disappearance of Flight MH370 has been dubbed one of the greatest aviation mysteries of all time.

Joe Hattley takes us behind the scenes of this mystery. As an aircraft accident investigator for over 24 years, Joe has been involved in a wide range of aircraft accident investigations throughout Australia and internationally, gaining experience in accident site management, developing accident investigation reports and making safety recommendations.

The loss of MH370 has brought out a raft of theories, opinions and books purporting to explain what happened to the Boeing 777 aircraft and the 239 persons on board.

The Australian Transport Safety Bureau (ATSB) led the search for the aircraft in the Southern Indian Ocean - astonishing given the original flight was meant to fly to Beijing. Given all the background 'noise' how was the search conducted and what is its status today?

Joe will provide an insight into the science behind the search and the technology used to try to solve the mystery. He will also explain the differences between the search and the official Malaysian investigation - a point lost in the headline reports.

DARLINGHURST GAOL Tour Tuesday 28th August 2018

The old Darlinghurst Gaol is one of Australia's oldest and best preserved examples of colonial sandstone architecture. Construction commenced in 1822 with the building of the perimeter walls 21ft high and over 30in thick. The sandstone was quarried from the nearby Barcom Glen, now the corner of William & Forbes Streets. Over 30,000 tons of stone was used, convict labour doing the heavy lifting. Prisoners came first from the old George St gaol to Darlinghurst in 1841. In 1914, 76 hangings and one famous Australian poet later, Darlinghurst Gaol was closed and prisoners were transferred to Long Bay. The site was used as a military detention camp during World War 1, later a technical college and today the National Art School.

Following the gaol tour we will be given a tour of an exhibition at the National Art School before lunch. Places are limited to 25. Cost is $25pp for the coach and tour; lunch at the Hangout cafe at your own cost. Add your name to the sign-on sheet at the next meeting, or contact Tony at abowra@alpha.net.au or on 0410 840 077
